An era is drawing to a close for the Berliner Philharmoniker. With the 2017/2018 season, Sir Simon Rattle’s tenure as the orchestra’s chief conductor comes to an end after 16 years. The concerts programmed for the Philharmonie and the Digital Concert Hall allow us to relive some of the many highlights of these years.

A performance of the oratorio The Creation, for example, lets audiences enjoy Rattle the celebrated Haydn conductor once more, while with Schumann’s Paradise and the Peri, Sir Simon presents one of his favourite works of the Romantic repertoire. We also have another opportunity to hear the completion of Bruckner’s Ninth Symphony which caused a sensation in 2012, and Rattle conducting Stravinsky is, of course, also an absolute must. On top of all that, there are joint appearances with artistic friends such as Mitsuko Uchida and Daniel Barenboim.

Other than all these reminiscences are Wagner’s Parsifal and Janáček’s The Cunning Little Vixen, two operas Sir Simon has never performed with the Berliner Philharmoniker before. Concerts with Mahler’s Sixth Symphony – with which Rattle made his debut with the Philharmoniker in 1987 – and the traditional end-of-season concert at the Waldbühne bring this great chapter in the history of the orchestra to a close.

In addition to Simon Rattle, there are a host of outstanding guest conductors and soloists in the Digital Concert Hall this season, including Kirill Petrenko, who takes up his position as the new chief conductor of the Berliner Philharmoniker in 2019.

We invite you to experience the 2017/2018 season live and explore our video archive with its hundreds of concert recordings. The Berliner Philharmoniker look forward to seeing you!
